FOREWARD

Researching my family has led me to this account of the Deakle family. Although I haven't found documented proof, I believe that my great great grandmother Winifred Akridge, the wife of John, was the daughter of Charles Deakle of Conecuh County, Alabama.

It is my hope that by saving and compiling the information accumulated I may encourage others to research the Deakle family and that additional information may be found.

JOHN DEAKLE

The Deakle Patriarch

In the brief history that follows about the immigrant John Deakle of Hannover, Germany I have chosen the spelling DEAKLE. The spelling used most often in early records was DEKLE, but for the purpose of familiarity I have decided not to use this spelling. It is said in Germany that the name was DECKLE or TECKLE and that the present form of the name is an Americanized spelling.

The founder of the Deakle family in America was John Deakle, who came to Effingham County, Georgia in 1734 from Hannover, Germany. John was seventeen years old when he immigrated to this country. He was born in 1717. He became identified with the Salzburger Colony, composed of German Lutherans. There is some doubt about John Deakle, whether he was Lutheran or Moravian in his religious belief.

John Deakle had five sons: Charles, George, Thomas, William, and Leonard, and three daughters by his wife Sallie Grisson, a Welch woman.

Charles, the son of John, came to Conecuh County, Alabama. He had, I believe, four sons and four daughters.

George, the son of John, married Nancy Roundtree. He had three sons and five daughters.

Thomas, the third son of John, had six sons and four daughters; Thomas moved to South Georgia, and was the progenitor of most of the Deakles in and around Thomasville.

William, the son of John, married Bethany Hollingsworth. He moved to Irvin County, Georgia. He had seven sons and two daughters.

Leonard, the youngest son of John, moved to South Georgia also. He married Sarah Durden and fathered three sons.

It is from Charles Deakle, the oldest son of John Deakle, that I believe Andrew and Willis Deakle descend. Most or all of the present day Deakle families of South Mobile County are from Andrew and Willis.

CHARLES DEAKLE

Charles Deakle was one of five brothers living in the state of Georgia in the early eighteen hundreds. He had four brothers, the names of which were George, Thomas, William, and Leonard.

Charles Deakle was first found in Montgomery County Georgia in 1806 on a tax roll. He paid tax on seven hundred acres of land. He also sold a piece of land in Jones County Georgia in or about 1806.

Sometime after 1806 Charles Deakle leaves Montgomery County Georgia and along with his family moves to Conecuh County in Alabama, probably in the Burnt Corn area. In 1820 on the census for Conecuh County Charles is shown as having seven children, three boys and four girls under the age of twenty one. The last record I have of Charles Deakle is in 1827 he joins the Bethany Baptist Church, Burnt Corn, Alabama. The church minutes read as follows; In 1827 there were twenty two additions: Mr and Mrs Charles Dekal, Dolly Wells, and Mary Snowden in April; Mr and Mrs John Adams in May; Mary Salter and Lindy Wood in June; Mr and Mrs Daniel Simpson in July; Ester Pugh and (Black) Simon in October; Winney Lamkin, David Lee, Robert Ivey, and (Black) Jane Waldrum in November; Mrs Laban Warren and Rachael Ivey by baptism in December.

On the Conecuh County Federal Census of 1830 the wife of Charles is shown as being the head of household with her son in the next household. This indicates that Charles has died between 1827 and 1830. Sometime after 1830 and before 1840 the family of Charles leaves Conecuh County and moves to the County of Wilcox in south central Alabama. It is here that four of the children of Charles and Elizabeth marry.

^{one} Three of Charles Deakles' sons came to Mobile County before 1830. ~~They were Andrew, Willis, and William.~~ Andrew and Willis remain in Mobile County to live and rear a family and I believe William left Mobile County and went to Wilcox County. All early Deakle families descended from these two remaining brothers, Andrew and Willis, in the Mobile County area.

Charles and his family seem to have been men of substance as Charles owned land and slaves while one of his sons Andrew was an engineer and farmer of considerable wealth and another, John G. Deakle was a Justice of the Peace.

Willis are

DESIREE' "DAISY" BOSARGE DEAKLE

By

Romanus Clark Blades

Daisy was born to Victor and Betsy on November 15, 1839 and died on May 5, 1928. She married Bazile Deakle on January 13, 1859 "at the house of Andrew Deakle."¹ Her sister, Victoria, was to marry in 1867 Bazile's brother, Joe Deakle.

Bazile was born on March 14, 1835 and died on July 25, 1924. His parents were Andrew Deakle and Agnes Grelot. Andrew Deakle was born in Georgia in 1805, and came to Bayou la Batre with his two brothers, Willis and (name unknown) to live. He was well educated for his day and time, having come from a prominent well-to-do and wealthy family of Georgia. He was Justice of the Peace and Land Surveyor in Mobile County. Andrew also farmed. He married Agnes Grelot, daughter of Bartholemy Grelot and Marguerite Bouzage. Andrew and Agnes had seven children. Two of their sons, Joe and Bazile, married two sisters, Victoria and Desire' Bosarge.

The following gravestone inscription is found in Oddfellow's Cemetery in Bayou la Batre, Alabama:

Sacred to the Memory of Andrew Deakle
Born in 1802 and died in 1862
and his eldest son William, who was born July 1830 and died defending his country at Vicksburg, Miss., where he now lies.

The Census of 1880 of Mobile County reveals the following household of Bazile and Daisy:

Baszil Deakle, age 40
Deseria, age 40
Susan O.
Charles, age 18
Benjamin, age 16
Robert L., age 11
Nora, age 7

Part of the estate of Victor Bosarge, Sr., deceased, is described in this deed of sale dated on the 10th day of July, 1882, by Basile Deakle, administrator of Victor Bosarge, dec'd, and Ebenezer and Azaline Bosarge.²

"Sold to Jacob J. Taylor for the sum of $90.00 for 12 acres on S11, T7, R4W, bounded on the East and South by lands of Fowler, West by the County Road from Grand Bay Station to Grand Bay Wharf, and North by lands of Stauter."

Signed: Basile Deakle, Adm.

A lively game of ball was played on

A negro named Melvin, from Mobile was arrested here last week for roaming considered a dangerous character.

that portion of land between East Side traction. There will be a raise in the price of razors when the inauguration ceremonies take place.

Until this summer the residents of Moss Point and Scranton did not appreciate the cooling breezes of Pascagoula of the bay. The season opened earlier this year, and many families from the

is asserted by not a few of our citizens that next summer the beach will be lined with many cottages owned and oc-

To the Honorable of the Southern Chancery Division -

Humbly Complaining I sheweth unto your Honor, Your Oratrix, Isabelle D. Smith, formerly Deakle, by her next friend and guardian Deakle, that she is, and has been, a bona fide resident of the State of Alabama for more than ~~two~~ ^{three} years next before the filing of this Bill - That on or about the 24th day of June 1846 she was married, in due to Jesse Smith, with whom she lived in the holy bonds of Matrimony, acting and doing in all things as a true wife - but ~~soon~~ ^{but} ~~she~~ ^{she} pleased your Honor, without any fault or fault of your Oratrix, the said Jesse became very abusive to your Oratrix, frequently getting drunk ~~and~~ on which occasion, he used Curses and abuse ^{her} ~~your Oratrix~~, and on one of these occasions, actually pointed a loaded gun at ^{her} ~~your Oratrix~~, & if she had not immediately got out of his way, would have shot your Oratrix - This occurred shortly after his marriage with your Oratrix, and continued up to ~~the~~ ^{the} ~~time~~ ^{time} in the month of September 1847
when he voluntarily abandoned your Oratrix ~~he is now~~ and shortly afterwards, as your Oratrix is informed and believes, married another woman ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~his~~ ^{his} whose name is to your Oratrix unknown, in Copiah County Mississippi, where and with whom your Oratrix is informed and believes, he is living in Adultery at this time - And your Oratory charges 1st that the said Jesse her husband has voluntarily abandoned her bed and board more than three years, needs pressing the said Jesse 2nd Adultery with the woman whose name is unknown to your Oratory, but whose name your Oratory expects to prove, as also other circumstances attending the same. And your Oratory charges that the said Jesse, has considerable Real and personal Estate but to what amount, and to what extent, is unknown to your Oratory - And your Oratory is poor & has no separate Estate, and prays your Honor therefore, to decree her a suitable allowance out of the estate of her said husband according to the proofs she may produce of his ability. Your Oratory has one child, the issue of this ill-fated marriage, named Josephine about five years of age, the custody of whom your Oratory prays may be decreed to her. May it please your Honor to grant the writ of Subpoena directed to the said Jesse Smith, Commanding him to appear before this Court at such time, & to take such order & decree as to your Honor shall seem meet - & that your Honor will decree the bonds of matrimony heretofore subsisting between your Oratory and said defendant forever dissolved, & that your Honor will grant all other prayers in this Bill contained, & such other further relief

as are necessary in the premises &c.

URNS HOUSE TOPSY-TURVY

The old adage about "putting the kitchen in the front and the parlor in the back yard" was enacted Sunday by the wife of Robert Johnson, colored, who decided to turn the house topsy-turvy in a demonstration, resenting the attentions of her husband toward another colored woman. It is said that upon Johnson's wife learning that he had a date with the other woman they had an argument in which the kitchen utensils and furniture were thrown about the place, most of it landing in the front room of their house on Washington street and the furniture of the front rooms strewn about the kitchen and yard. Johnson is said to have returned later and some one struck him over the head with a hoe handle causing a long and deep gash which necessitated his being treated at the Biloxi Hospital.
